Applying for Access

Outside researchers desiring access to CSEM data must submit an application for approval, to both the Executive Director and Research Manager. The submitter(s) must answer the following questions:

1. What are the names of the individuals applying to access the database? Please list all of them below, along with their contact information.

2. Please describe the backgrounds on of the individuals listed above, and how these backgrounds relate to data, analysis, and research.

3. What is your interest in Center of the Study of Economic Mobility?

4. Please list the specific dataset(s) you want access to.

5. What is the specific research question(s) that you hope to answer with CSEM's data?

6. What is the explicit reason you need access to CSEM's data to answer the question(s)?

7. How will the results of using the data be used? Papers? Presentations? Reports? Publications?

8. What is the specific timeline in which you will use the data and complete the project(s)?

The Executive Director and Research Manager, in consultation with other CSEM members and affiliated researchers, will evaluate applications on an individual basis. Not all applications will be approved. All published works and presentations must explicitly cite the Center for the Study of Economic Mobility. If approved to access the database, users must only download and use the dataset(s) they applied for.
