Transfer credits from other universities over five years old will not be accepted toward a degree program at WSSU. All course content over seven years old must be recertified in a manner established by the program and approved by the Graduate Council. Such methods of recertification may include but are not limited to completion of additional coursework, comprehensive examinations of the current program content, evidence of continuing professional education, additional research papers or reports related to the current program content. A letter describing the method(s) of recertification must be submitted to the Graduate Program Coordinator at the time of the request for program extension. The outcome(s) of the recertification must also be submitted to the Graduate Program Coordinator prior to student graduation or any additional requests for extensions. All requests for extensions must be made by the program as soon as it becomes evident the student will not finish all requirements within the six year time limit.
